JEN-O-SEE

FOREWORD

This book is a diary of our last year at Geneseo Central School. On the following pages we have tried to picture our school, our life here, and our associations with the teachers and our fellow students. Now let the spirit of '53 guide you through our presentation of the "Jen-O-See".

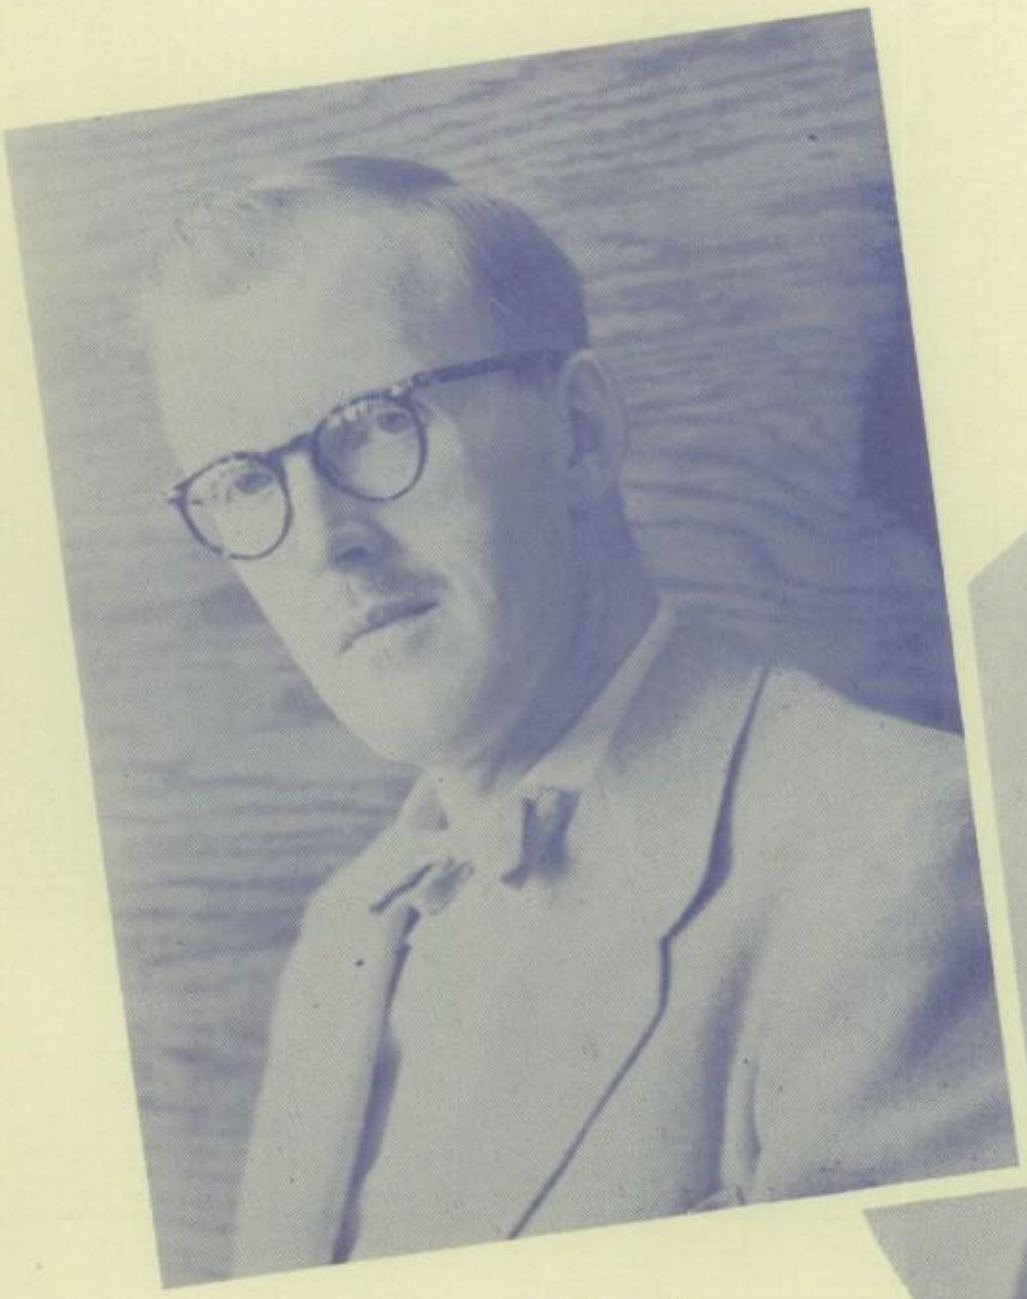
The Class of 1953

WE HONOR

In sincere appreciation for their interest and kindness, we, the seniors, dedicate the 1953 "Jen-O-See" to Miss Quirk and Mr. Perry.

Always ready with a smile, Miss Quirk has unfailingly dispelled our most baffling research problems and has given us individual and personal attention. She has made available a complete variety of reference material sufficiently varied to arouse the interest of all of us. Throughout our association with her, Miss Quirk has been mentor, advisor, and friend.

Mr. Perry, with his vast fund of knowledge, has given the seniors a strong background in Social Studies. By applying democratic practices to classroom procedure, by attempting to teach us to think and draw conclusions independently and by alternating the humorous with the serious, he has contributed to the profit and enjoyment of our years at Geneseo Central School.



Mr. Perry

Miss Quirk

BOARD OF EDUCATION

A debt of gratitude is forthcoming to Mr. Jenkins and the Board of Education for their diligent efforts in establishing further efficiency and harmony in the Geneseo school system. This year the Board made possible the addition of a new school bus which relieved previously overcrowded buses. A full time agricultural department also was added to the curriculum under the auspices of the Board. The varsity basketball squad was given their jackets by the Board as a token of their meritorious achievement.

When the seniors receive their long coveted diplomas one bright June day, they will undoubtedly turn to thank the loyal and understanding friends who have made their graduation possible—the members of the faculty. They have trained us well in our studies, lent a helping hand in our activities, and aided in our search for college or vocations.

We have known and worked with them for only a short time but their influence on our lives will be permanent. We go into the world, inspired by their ideals and hopes for our personal success. As we review the influence of our four years of high school, we agree with the words of Tennyson, "I am a part of all that I have met."

BUS DRIVE

CAFETERIA

L. to R.: Mrs. J. Waide Mrs. I. Lang.

When old Sol first peeps his rosy brow over the drowsy hills, he looks upon the yellow fleet of G.C.S. buses speeding their passengers to morning classes. Conducted faithfully and safely in fair weather or foul, the students owe a great deal of gratitude to the bus drivers. At noontime our cafeteria workers have a delicious, healthful lunch ready for the hungry students. All through the day the custodians perform extra services in connection with activities, while making our school one of the cleanest and most orderly in the state. The seniors want to take this opportunity to express their appreciation to this staff of competent people for all that they have done for us during our brief acquaintance with them.

CLASS OF 1953

Dear Diary,

Today, armed with pails, brushes and using a bandana for my halo, I decided to do a bit of housecleaning for the class of '53. But when I arrived in that room in GCS where the odds and ends of many classes are stored, I made a wonderful discovery! There in a dusky corner stood precarious piles of the '53 class records, cobweb-covered but containing memories of four happy years. So I pulled a trunk up beside a tiny window, blew the dust from a book stamped 1950, and began to read of all those Freshman adventures.

Of course, the year started with us, prisoners of the mighty Seniors, crawling up and down many flights of stairs, dragging chains. The week was fun, we must admit, and it broke the ice of unfamiliarity we felt as new high school students. And we wouldn't have missed the dance the Seniors gave us as a climax to the week!

After the initiation, we set out to prove that we were truly grown-up. The two bake sales we gave that winter did this, besides providing us with a sizeable nest egg for a Senior trip. With Bill DeCamp as President, Phyllis DeBole as Vice-President, Harriet Hally as Secretary, Carol Kingston as Treasurer and Miss Domann as advisor, our ventures were well worthwhile.

In April the Seniors landed in New York, established a beachhead and reported conquest within twent four hours. The big city enchanted us completely, and the time flew much too quickly. So we returned GCS for some diligent study in preparation for finals which really weren't too bad, as we discovered late

Our leaders through these adventures were President David Scoville; Vice-President Nick Orland Recording Secretary Phyllis DeBole; Corresponding Secretary Harriet Hally; Treasurer Chris Rider a advisor,

Miss Jimerson,

Now I must re-pile all these books. Goodness, where did the time go? Now I will never get at this room. I must rush—don't you hear the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" coming from the flower-decked auditorium? Let me shake out my sheet and straighten my halo so that I may join the class of '53 for the last time. But I will not follow the happy graduates into the wide, wide world. I now have a permanent residence at GCS with my cronies of by-gone years. Perhaps some day you will see us playing tag in the corridors or chuckling over our many experiences with the classes for which we served as honorary spirits.

I now affix my signature to this, the last page of the diary of the class of 1953.

CLASS OF 1954

For many football fans, the 1952 season was particularly pleasant at G.C.S., because, in addition to seeing a good game, they were able to purchase hot cups of coffee or chocolate from smiling Juniors. As the year progressed, this proved to be only one of many activities for this large and active class. The Yuletide season brought a Junior sponsored sale of attractive Christmas cards and in the early part of 1953 the whole school was flourishing scarlet pencils imprinted with a handy schedule of basketball games. Spring brought the Junior Prom, the rustle of new dresses, soft lights and good music. The success of all their activities was due in large part to the excellent leadership of Walter Sanders, President; Mary Vogt, Vice-President; Carol Root, Secretary; Bill Westland, Treasurer; and Mrs. Cooney their very capable faculty advisor.

CLASS OF 1955

To begin the school year the Sophomore class chose a group of capable, interested officers. With James Sturges as President; Mary Alice Neis as Vice-President; Patty Coffey as Secretary; and Dave Linton as Treasurer, the group was ready to launch their sale of personalized writing paper, pastel-colored paper napkins and handy name tags. Earnest, persuasive salesmen soon provided for the writing needs of the school and community while adding to their treasury. The Sophomore Hop was much enjoyed and proved a climax to a fine year. The class turns to thank Mr. MacNeil, their advisor, for his help and understanding in all activities.

CLASS OF 1956

Freshman robots careened stiff-leggedly down the halls when school opened this fall. Obeying the every wish of the "master-minded" Seniors, they survived the annual initiation to enjoy a party with the Senior class at the week's end. The Seniors, and, we are sure, the entire school extend a congratulating hand to the Freshmen for the spirit of cooperation displayed at every moment.

As if to declare their full entrance into high school life, the class of '56 held a successful bake sale in the spring and started on the way to financing the Senior trip. Class officers for their first year of high school were President, Madelene Welch; Vice-President, Teresa Kingston; Secretary, Lucille Johnson; and Treasurer, Judy Lindsley. To Mr. McMillan go many thanks for helping make their Freshman year so memorable.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council has been under the excellent supervision of Mr. Rost and Miss Quirk and the guidance of the officers: David Goldthwait, President; Dick Woolston, Vice-President; Phyllis DeBole, Secretary; and Elsie Little, Treasurer.

Monitoring the lunch line, scheduling noon hour movies, arranging with music directors for school songs, and other helpful activities have kept the Council busy.

However, the Council has had time to join with the other Livingston County councils in organizing the Livingston County Student Council Association, a project designed to better student government in our schools.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Soft music and inspiring words provided an impressive background for the initiation ceremony of the National Honor Society last December. The large group, including thirteen new members, met several times to plan an assembly for the student body, to assist in an initiation at a neighboring school, and to meet with other chapters to discuss activities. Officers for the year were Chris Rider, President; Phyllis DeBole, Vice-President; Harriet Hally, Secretary; and David Goldthwait, Treasurer.

THE NIGHT OF JAN. 16th

Curtain going up! The class of 1953 presented its annual senior play November 14 and 15 in the Geneseo Central auditorium. This year the play was "The Night of January 16th" in which Kanen Andre was accused of the murder of Byron Faulkner, a notorious financial dictator and swindler. A look behind stage would reveal the scurrying feet of the cast in last minute preparations, the fixing of make-up, and double checking to see if all the evidence was there and the making of punch for the lawyers, which the jury always drank. However, we all had a wonderful time trying to prove, "Who done it". Miss Jimerson had charge of this production.

ADVERTISING STAFF

JEN-O-SEE 1953

This year ghosts haunted the Jen-O-See press room. The art department was constantly trying to catch one of these little demons to see what they really looked like. When we finally had the ghosts controlled, a weary but enthusiastic staff tried to publish a book that would be full of wonderful memories of our years at Geneseo Central School. We hope our desire has been fulfilled.

The staff this year was headed by: Editor, Harriet Hally; Business Manager, Carol Kingston; Literary Editor, Margaret DeCamp; Advertising Manager, Phyllis DeBole; Art Editor, Nick Orlando, assisted by faculty advisor, Miss Domann.

EDITORIAL STAFF

VALLEY ECHOES

The staff of the Valley Echoes decided this September to print the school newspaper as a part of the local papers, thus giving the public a more complete coverage of school affairs. This plan has met with success and the staff has been complimented on its work by numerous citizens of the community. Miss Domann was advisor this year and Harriet Hally was editor.

LIBRARY CLUB

The members of the Library Club have been very busy this year, learning to care for the books, to replace them on the shelves, and to arrange attractive displays and eye-catching bulletin boards. With Miss Quirk as advisor, these people served as officers: Carol Root, President; Joan Costello, Vice-President; Janet Stapley, Secretary-Treasurer; Shirley Erwin, Librarian; and Elsie Little, Program Chairman.

Members of the Junior Red Cross conducted a successful drive for funds this year and, in addition, served as hosts and hostesses at the Blood Bank and made favors for the trays of patients in the neighboring hospitals. President Margaret DeCamp; Vice-President Harriet Hally; Secretary and Treasurer Elsie Little were officers, while Miss Quirk acted as advisor.

F. F. A.

Students of the Vocational Agriculture classes in the high school belong to the Future Farmers of America, a national organization. This year members have taken numerous trips in connection with class work, and their F.F.A. basketball team has participated in games with many neighboring schools. Mr. MacNeil serves as advisor to the group.

PROJECTION CLUB

Members of the Projection Club render valuable assistance to classes and the school as a whole. They learn how to operate the projector and are willing to show films for any of the classes. In addition, they aid the Student Council by showing the movies at noon. The advisor of this large and popular group is Mr. Rost.

JUNIOR HISTORICAL

The Junior Historical Society has grown greatly this year, including in its membership many students in the high school. Among the activities undertaken this year were several trips and work on several publications. Mrs. Vienna, advisor, was assisted by James Sturges, President; Martha Welch, Vice-President; Carol Root, Secretary; and Alice Brown, Treasurer.

BAND

After marching in several parades last summer for the Geneseo firemen, the senior band composed of about 40 members settled down to regular practices every Monday and Thursday, under the direction of Mr. Cooney. Officers chosen for this year were: President, Chris Rider; Librarians. Roxie Williams and Robert Risley; Secretary, Patty Coffey; and Treasurer, William Meeker. During the fall the band donned their attractive blue and white trimmed uniforms to march during half time at the football games, giving clever exhibitions which were enjoyed by all those who attended the games. On February 19th and 20th, members were chosen to represent our band at the annual All-County Music Festival held in Dansville this year. Our excellent timpani player, Chris Rider, won a competitive scholarship to Eastman School of Music for eight weeks. In May the band went to Canandaigua for a rating.

Our school's seven majorettes colorfully dressed in their new blue and white costumes expertly led the band when it performed at football games last fall.

MAJORETTES

The orchestra has been working this year towards raising funds to buy uniforms. To raise money, the group held a bake sale during the winter. A few of the members were sent as delegates to the All-County Music Festival in Dansville in February and William Jenkins, violinist in the orchestra for the past six years, won a competitive scholarship to Eastman School of Music for eight weeks.

At Christmas time all the musical departments helped put on an operetta, "A Christmas Carol," for the parents and townspeople. Mrs. Milliman and Mr. Cooney kindly gave much of their time to rehearse the members of the cast and choruses to make this a successful production.

Staley.

The junior band is composed of about 30 members from the junior high school and has, as its director, Mr. Cooney. These future senior band members met every other Friday for rehearsal.

MIXED CHORUS

This year a new organization called mixed chorus was added to the ever-growing music department. Under the able direction of Mrs. Alice Milliman, the group met every Wednesday for practice. At an "Open House" program for parents and teachers last fall, they were given their first opportunity to perform and later they sang for an assembly.

1952 FOOTBALL

The 1952 version of the football Blue Devils inaugurated the season under lights, against a tough, experienced Aquinas "B" eleven. The Devils made it a close contest, losing by only one touchdown. Geneseo rebounded and whalloped Dansville 25-6 in the league opener. They played fine football against the league champions, Livonia, losing by only two touchdowns in a thrilling tussle. The last four games proved to be heartbreakers, as the Blue Devils dropped games to Avon, Caledonia, York and Mt. Morris by close scores. Next year Geneseo loses the starting backfield but retains most of the line. At the end of the season, Pete Welch was elected Captain.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1952-1953 edition of the Blue Devils experienced the most successful season in the history of the school. Geneseo won 20 straight games before being defeated by a strong Victor five in the semifinals of the Section V basketball tournament. During the regular 18 game season the team set numerous school records. They scored over that period of time more than 1000 points, were the undefeated winner of Livingston County B League and Conference, and Bill DeCamp scored 36 points in a single game against Dansville. The graduation of Co-Captains Bill DeCamp and Pete Welch, along with Dave Goldthwait, Chris Rider, Bill Jenkins and Bill Haley will leave a large hole in Geneseo's forces next year. The season was climaxed by the award of the J. Harland Evans sportsmanship trophy to Geneseo Central. This award was won in competition with all other finalists in the Section V tournament and Geneseo was very proud to be so honored.

The Junior Varsity had a very good, though not a record breaking season like the varsity squad. They finished with 13 wins and 5 losses. Many of these boys are expected to see varsity action next year, since graduation is claiming so many of the varsity members.

BOWLING

In 1952 the boys' bowlin team of Geneseo Central wo the Livingston County Champi onship and placed fourth out o nine teams in the sectionals The officers who were electe to preside over the group wer President, Charles Aprile, Vice President, Gerald Willey; Secre taries, William Meeker and Pau Vienna; and the Treasurer Walter Sanders. The team represented were the Kraz Kids, Peasants, Avengers, an Spit-firers.

TENNIS

Geneseo's tennis team, very successful for the third year in a row, won the 1952 County Championship, winning nine out of ten matches to add to their fine record. Bill Jenkins won the County Singles Title but lost in the final round at the Section Five Tournament. Hopes are high for a continuous winning streak during the coming years.

The 1952 baseball team had a fairly good year finishing in third place in their league. Gerry Spezzano acted as captain of the team and is the only player who won't be back for the 1953 season. The '53 team should have a promising year with so many experienced players returning. They are to be coached by Mr. MacNeil.

TRACK

Last year Bill Haley acted as captain of the track team and was also their high scorer. The team beat York once and Avon twice but unfortunately they lost at the county meet in York, even though they made a good showing for themselves. The team and their coach, Mr. Perry, are all working for a perfect record in '53.

BASEBALL

OFFICERS

G. A. A.

"When the recorder comes to write against your name, he writes not if you won or lost but how you played the game." In following this motto, the girls of the GAA learn good sportsmanship as well as good sports. Inter-class competition spurs noon intramurals to a high pitch. Girls' Bowling, playdays and intramurals of all kinds are among the activities of the members. Under the leadership of Miss Harrington, Carol Kingston, Barbara Linfoot, Shirley Culbertson, and Joanne Morris, this year's girls have enjoyed many sports and have worked enthusiastically for points which bring awards in June.

Carol Kingston was again elected captain of the Varsity Cheerleading squad this year, while Donna Smith was chosen to lead the Junior Varsity squad.

Besides being active during the football and basketball seasons, both groups sponsored dances in the gym after the home games.
